HEARST LOOKS TO BE WINNER IN BUFFALO

Nixon Chosen For Chairman--Jerome Will Not Run.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 25—Jerome withdraws as a candidate for governor and the anti-Hearst delegates may concentrate either on Judge Gaynor or Mayor Adams.

Buffalo, Sept. 25—Lewis S. Nixon of New York city, a former leader of Tammany Hall, was chosen for temporary chairman of the Democratic state convention, the first session of which was called to order here at noon. Nixon is a delegate to the convention from the district of Charles F. Murphy, the present leader of Tammany. The naming of Nixon as temporary chairman is regarded as clarifying the situation to some extent, though none of the factions will admit that his selection means even a temporary setback to their cause. The former Tammany leader is claimed by the advocates of William R. Hearst to be friendly to their candidate for the governorship, but Nixon made no public declaration of position.

District Attorney Jerome is closeted in his apartments nearly all the time, and Mayor McClellan, who is advocating the district attorney for the gubernatorial nomination, conferred with delegates.

The party leaders are still trying to fathom the strength of Hearst, in whose behalf a strong organization is working. They are also endeavoring to secure a declaration from Murphy, leader of Tammany.

Murphy was visited at his headquarters by seven delegates from as many counties, who spoke in behalf of John A. Dix of Washington county as their choice for governor. To them Murphy made the most positive statement of his position and that of Tammany Hall he uttered in public since his arrival here. "Tammany is not pledged to any candidate whatsoever," said he, "and I want that understood. We are here to find out who the upstate people want, and whoever they decide on is good enough for us, no matter whether it is Mr. Adam, Mr. Dix or anybody else. Tammany will follow, not lead."

It was announced that Senator Grady will offer the committee on resolutions a resolution indorsing William J. Bryan as the presidential nominee of the Democratic party in 1908.

Roger C. Sullivan, Democratic national committeeman of Illinois, said he might remain through the convention as the guest of the New York national committeeman, Norman E. Mack.

Still Talking In Havana

Havana, Sept. 25—Secretary of War Taft and Assistant Ssecretary of State Bacon held an unsatisfactory conference with President Palma and other government officials at the palace. The American mediators presented the peace terms proposed by the rebels which are known to be against the government.

Secretary Taft said after the conference there had been only an exchange of opinions, and that the conference would be resumed today.

BLACKS SHOOT DOWN WHITES IN ATLANTA

One Policeman Killed--Think Peace Is Far Away.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 25—The militia made a raid on Brownville this afternoon, the negro quarter of the city, arresting 257. One negro was killed when he attempted to escape. J. L. Price, a negro, the postmaster, was arrested charged with supplying ammunition to the negroes.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 25—In a desperate battle at close range between Officers Smith and Maddox and Policeman Cason and two dangerous negroes, barricaded in a house near the corner of McGruder and Randolph streets, at 6 o'clock this morning, the negroes were killed and the police officers had narrow escapes.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 25—All of the students of Gammon negro seminary, 4000 in number, and President W. J. E. Bowen of the faculty have been placed under arrest in Brownsville on account of the trouble there this morning.

Governor Terrell has just been appealed to to send troops out there to protect the property and lives. A detachment of the regiment is already out.

This runs the negroes arrest up to 1000, every one with weapons is arrested. Serious trouble is feared later.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 25.—Reports of slaughter Monday night in various parts of Atlanta after the most careful investigation resolved themselves into one fight between a number of county policemen and deputies and an unknown number of negroes.

This fight took place in South Atlanta, about three miles from the city's center and in the vicinity of Clark university, a negro institution. James L. Heard, a policeman, was killed, and four other officers were wounded. The number of negroes dead is not known, possibly never will be known, but the officers claimed to have counted from six to 15 dead or dying negroes on the ground. The excitement of the fight and the darkness of the night made the counting uncertain.

Report of the lynching of Zeb Long a negro, at East Point, a suburb eight miles south of the city, caused some excitement. Long was arrested Sunday night charged with disorderly conduct. He threatened the marshal of the town and appeared to be prepared to carry out his threats. He was taken from jail and hanged in the woods half a mile from the town.

In anticipation of possible further trouble Mayor Woodward issued an order that all boys under 21 years must keep off the streets after 8 o'clock at night.

The courts have taken a hand in connection with the riot Saturday night. In the city police court Judge Broyles inflicted the extreme sentence of the law on six young white men charged with inciting riot, giving each 30 days in jail and binding them over to the higher courts under $1,000 bonds.

The grand jury brought in true bills against two negroes charged with assault with intent to commit criminal assault on two young white women. Both assaults occurred within the last two weeks, one on Courtland street and the other at Copeland Hill, near the city.

HIGGINS UPSETS ALL DOPE BY DROPPING OUT

Republican Convention at Saratoga Up In Air.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 25.—The refusal of Governor Higgins to accept a renomination unsettled things, and efforts were put forth by the leaders to secure a ticket which can be nominated by acclamation.

Lieutenant Governor Bruce is an active candidate. His chief competitors are Charles E. Hughes and State Senator Edgar T. Brackett of Saratoga. There are quite a number of men in the "mentioned" class, among these being former Lieutenant Governor Timothy L. Woodruff, Elihu Root, secretary of state; former Governor Frank S. Black, Congressman Herbert Parsons and A. S. Draper of Albany, state commissioner of education.

Timothy L. Woodruff, who has been frequently talked of as a candidate, said emphatically: "I did not come here as a candidate. I am not a candidate, and I am discouraging my friends from talking of me as such."

Secretary Root's name, like that of ex-Governor Black, is suggested by men who say that a man of the greatest prominence should be selected for the head of the ticket in present conditions. Doubt is expressed whether either would accept the nomination.

Support of Bruce comes chiefly from up-state leaders, from the men who rallied around Governor Higgins and made possible the defeat of former Governor Odell. Hughes is backed especially by Parsons and is his strongest asset. Parsons is not only fresh from a dashing victory in New York, but more recently from a visit to Oyster Bay, and it is believed that he would hardly be pushing the Hughes boom unless it was agreeable to the national administration. The Odell men in the New York delegation will be likely to vote for Hughes, as he was at one time considered Odell's choice, and possibly the Odell delegates up state would be for him. Odell after all has considerable strength in the convention, and may become a factor in case of a close contest.

Higgins Not a Candidate.

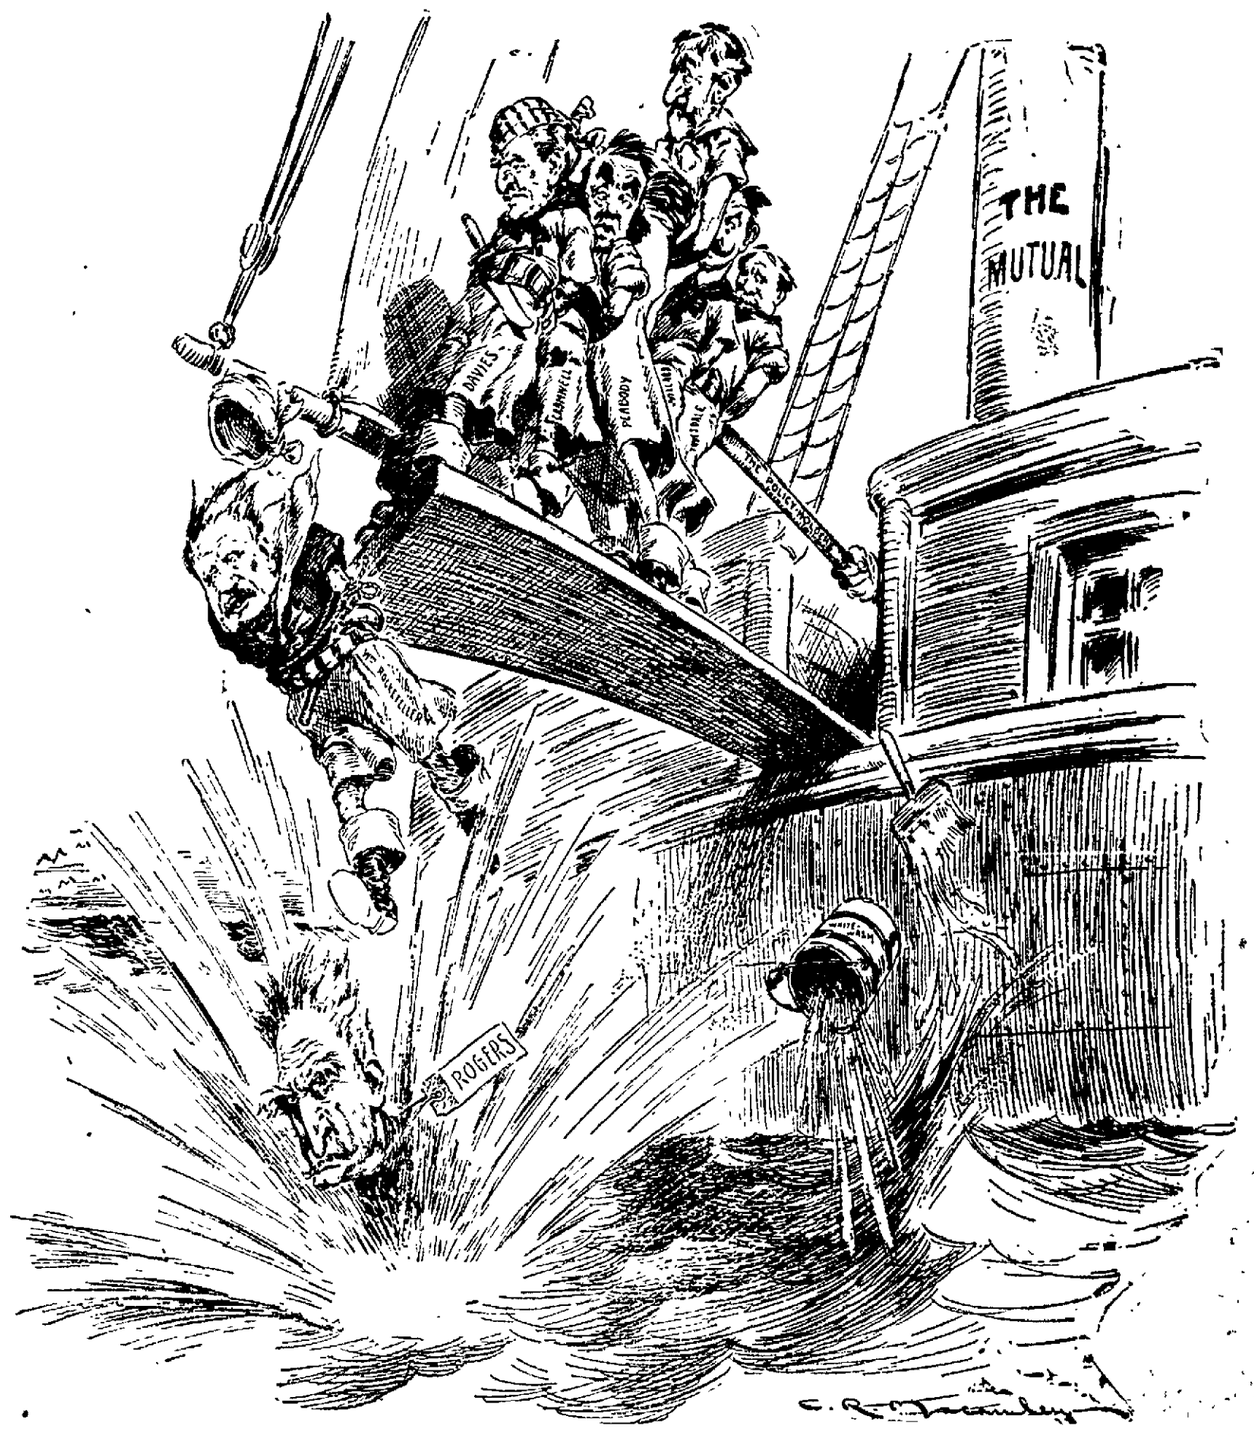

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 25.—"I have not sought and I shall not accept a renomination," says Governor Higgins in a statement issued from the executive chamber. This phrase closes a statement in which the governor gives his reasons for refusing a renomination, and after declaring that the party is in an admirable condition, says: "When the party enters the campaign in so wholesome a condition the hosts of Hearst can not prevail against it." Governor Higgins further says: "Two years ago I began my campaign with the pledge that, if elected, I would have an administration of my own. I have kept that pledge. By so doing I have met opposition from those who believe that governors and legislators are safer public servants when they follow the guidance of a party boss than when they think for themselves and act on this responsibility. The result of the contest in the recent primaries for the principle of executive independence has given courage to all who believe that the governor should not be the puppet of the party organization and hope to all who deplore the supremacy of irresponsible political absolutism. It also leaves me free to gratify my personal inclination with honor, and then withdraw my name from further consideration."

Tree is Gone.

The magnificent elm tree that for years has stood in upper East Main street has been removed by the city. Residents of that part of town think this means street paving next summer.

"Overboard With Them"

(FROM NEW YORK "WORLD.")

"Every ring must go!" This is the slogan of the International Policyholders' Committee which is fighting to place a clean Board of Directors in the Mutual and New York Life Insurance Companies. The International Committee has announced that it would give no quarter, but every trustee who has been connected with the corrupt regime in these two companies must walk the plank. The purpose of the Committee's fight is the election of a Board of Directors composed of men of tried integrity—men who will represent ably and honestly the 1,000,000 policy holders and see that their rights are observed. It is their intention to prevent the Wall Street financiers making any further use of the enormous assets of over $900,000,000 which the companies possess.

LEG BROKEN IN RUNAWAY

Jesse Seibert Victim of Scare At Motor Car.

Jesse Siebert who lives west of Roscoe, was thrown from a wagon by a runaway team on North Second street Monday afternoon, and his left leg broken near the ankle.

Mr. Siebert and his wife were driving toward home about 4 o'clock and the horses became frightened at an automobile owned by Mr. Mosser of Newark. One of the lugs came unfastened, and the tongue of the wagon dropped to the ground. Both Mr. and Mrs. Siebert were thrown to the pavement, but the lady was only badly bruised.

Mr. Siebert was carried into Archie Clark's residence and Dr. Lear was called. He found the limb badly fractured.

Mr. Mosser took the injured man and his wife to their home in his automobile later in the evening.

FRAUD ALLEGED IN STYER'S REPLY

Says He Had No Idea Of Buying Lorgnettes For Bowman.

Peter Styer, the Bowman merchant, has filed a sensational answer to the suit against him by the Western Mfg. Co. of Minneapolis. The company brought suit through their attorney Howard Hahn for $192 for a bill of jewelry sold.

In his answer, by attorneys Adams and Roche, Mr. Styer sets forth the startling statement that fraud was practiced upon him by the agent that sold the goods. He declares that the agent produced a list of goods etc., and told him that all they asked of him was room in his store to set a show case filled with the goods and at the end of 60 days he was to make an accounting and send them half the money he had taken in for the goods making the sale on commission.

This does not agree with the contract that bears his signature but he declares that he cannot read and asked the agent to read the contract to him and that the agent misread the contract and secured his signature to it by so doing. That he discovered the nature of the bargain and at once notified the express company that he would not take the goods when they came.

The list of jewelry included a number of watches, rings, charms, etc., and among other things gold chain, nor lorgnettes, a foible of fashion that has not yet struck Bowman and vicinity.

Paving is Begun.

The paving of Sixth street began in reality Monday evening, when the workmen began laying brick. All day they have been rushing the work and it is expected that by tonight half the square will be completed.

MITCHELL BUYS KEITH'S STORE

Now Owns Two Stores Here--Important Deal.

Porter Mitchell, proprietor of the Mitchell Cash Store in the Park hotel building, today purchased the W. O. Keith shoe store until recently owned by Foster & Strome. It is said the price is in the neighborhood of $8,000.

The store is one of the largest in the county and will be run the same as in the past, quarters in the postoffice building to be retained while the cash store in the Park hotel building will be run entirely separate.

Mr. Mitchell also owns and operates a large retail store in Flushing, Ohio, and this with his two stores here makes him one of the heaviest retail dealers in south eastern Ohio.

The work of invoicing the Keith shoe stock began Tuesday morning and the purchaser will take possession Monday.

Mr. Keith is as yet undecided what business to engage in but is considering several business opportunities, both local and foreign.

FORMER COSHOCTONIAN IS BROTHER TO LORD MINTO

One of the happiest incidents of the stay which Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pomerene made in London during August was their visit with Mr. and Mrs. Elliott who are fondly remembered by many Coshocton people; they are both devoted to English life and while still loyal to their friends here they say that they have not the slightest desire to return to the states to live. Mr. Elliott is London agent of the Meek Co.

Mr. Elliott's friends here will be interested to learn that his eldest brother is the Lord Minto who was recently appointed Viceroy of India to succeed Lord Curzon. Lord Minto has been prominent in British politics for some years, his regime as governor-general of Canda was a memorable one and the appointment to his present exalted position comes as the recognition of remarkable ability along diplomatic and political lines.

PEACE PLANS UP TO PALMA

Intimated That Cuban President Is Not Pleased With Them.

TOO PARTIAL TO INSURGENTS

Conference at the Palace Which Lasted Late Into the Night Was Adjourned to Be Resumed Today. Cuban Cabinet Continued Discussion After Arbiters Retired.

Havana, Sept. 25.—An unsatisfactory conference was held at the palace between President Palma, members of his cabinet, Secretary Taft, Assistant Secretary of State Bacon, Consul General Steinhart and Captain McCoy, when the mediators called the attention of the Cuban administration to the status of peace negotiations with the Liberals and insurgents. The conference adjourned at 11 o'clock to be resumed today.

The peace terms proposed are known to be against the government. The visit to the palace of the commissioners was therefore not particularly pleasant. After departing Secretary Taft announced that the conference resulted only in exchange of opinions, and that another meeting was necessary. The big doors of the palace closed as usual at 11 o'clock, but the president and the members of the cabinet remained in conference until long after that hour.

There is a strong impression that President Palma will remain and reorganize the cabinet, but that new elections will be held for half the senators and representatives, in other words those who were elected last year, and possibly also for provincial officers.

At the conclusion of a long conference between a committee of eight insurgents and the peace commissioners the members of the committee announced that there was practically no difference remaining between them and Secretaries Taft and Bacon, and that the peace plans probably would be agreed to at a meeting in the Presidio, where the prisoner members of the committee are confined.

Secretary Taft would give no details of what transpired at the conference for the reason that it was next necessary to treat with the government leaders, and publication of the peace proposals might interfere with their prompt acceptance. Messrs. Taft and Bacon went to the palace and informed President Palma of the outcome of the negotiations with the Liberals.

Until the signing of an armistice Monday the government continued to strengthen the defenses of Havana. Following is the text of Secretary Taft's armistice as agreed on absolutely by the insurgents and on one condition by the Cuban government:

"No movement of troops shall take place on either side without a notification to the opposing authorities, viz., the secretary of the interior of Cuba, Alfredo Zayas, representing the Liberal party, and the United States peace commission: this peace shall be effective throughout Cuba: if either party violates any of the expressed conditions the opposing party shall not take hostile action until after a complaint notification to the peace commission: hostilities shall not be resumed for at least 24 hours after notification to the peace commission."

The condition which Acting Secretary of State Montalvo made signing the document was that he should notify Secretary Taft instead of Senator Zayas of the Liberal party if the government desired to move troops.

Back Stamping Letters.

Washington, Sept. 25.—The effect of the experiment conducted by the postoffice department in Chicago, New York, Jersey City and Boston of the system of back stamping mail matter in order to facilitate delivery caused postmasters throughout the country to flood the department with requests for similar permission. The idea originated with Frank T. Hitchcock, first assistant postmaster general. When he returned from Europe Hitchcock took up the matter, and one of his first acts was to issue an order, effective Oct. 1, suspending the regulations with respect to back stamping in St. Louis, Richmond, Va., Providence and Albany. The plan will be tried in those cities a sufficient length of time in order that an accurate idea may be obtained of its efficiency.

A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with over work. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, despondent, frequent headaches, pain or distress in "small of back," gnawing or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea, bitter or sour "risings" in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will relieve you more promptly or cure you more permanently than Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot bread and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to its use until you are vigorous and strong.

The "Discovery" is non-secret, non-alcoholic, is a glyceric extract of native medicinal roots with a full list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Its ingredients are endorsed and extolled by the most eminent medical writers of the age and are recommended to cure the diseases for which it is advised.

Don't accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION.

DOG OWNERS MAKE A KICK

Merchants And Farmers Also Roast Dog Ordinance.

Owners of fine dogs are up in arms over the results attained under the new dog ordinance. They declare that the big percentage of the dogs captured are fine bird dogs, and that the ownerless curs at which the law is aimed, are too fleet to be caught and get away.

"A farmer made a hard kick to me today" said a business man to an Age reporter this afternoon talking of the ordinance. "He said that Coshocton was all the time putting up barriers against the farmer, and that this new dog ordinance made it almost impossible for him to come to town, for his shepherd dog always follows him; if he comes after a dollar's worth of groceries, and his dog is taken up, it costs him another dollar to redeem it.

"I think the ordinance should be like the one in force at Dayton, Columbus, Cleveland, Cincinnati and other cities where they know how to handle the question. Pet dogs on which taxes are paid are tagged and they are then immune from arrest. That brings the force of the law on the ownerless curs, just where it belongs. The present law is unsatisfactory and is working a hardship not only on owners of good dogs, but on merchants and all retail business."

Steamer Leaked.

Detroit, Sept. 25.—Firemen on the steamer C. B. Hill, formerly the Delaware, from Cleveland to Fort William with package freight, mutinied when the boat was abreast of Belle Isle and refused to keep up steam unless Captain J. H. Coleman agreed to return to Detroit. The steamer sprang a leak in a heavy sea on Lake Erie and took in some water at the stern. The firemen claimed she was unseaworthy. Captain Coleman after a conference with the men returned to this city and tied up at a wharf. The captain says the leak did not amount to anything and that no members of the crew except the firemen had any complaint.

Saved From Drowning.

San Juan, P. R., Sept. 25.—A private in the Porto Rican provisional regiment fell overboard off Morro castle. He was being swept away by the tide when Lieutenant Laurence Angel of the Porto Rican infantry jumped in to save him. Pittsburg, Sept. 25.—Frank Riera, 42, a Sicilian and local political leader of his race, was found dead of stiletto wounds. A piece of a shirt waist was clutched in his fingers. Following this clew the police went to 3007 Laurel avenue, where they found the rest of the shirt waist and discovered that a drunken fight occurred there. They arrested pending an investigation Mrs. Mamie McBride, 21; Mrs. Della Wheeler, 27; her husband, Christian Wheeler, and her parents, Jesse Waters and wife. A charge of murder was lodged against Waters.

Suicide After Arrest.

STENSLAND IS READY TO PEACH

Banker Back And Says He Will Stir Things Up.

New York, Sept. 25.—Important disclosures are expected when the officers get back to Chicago with Paul O. Stensland, the fugitive banker arrested at Tangier, Morocco, and brought back on the steamer Prinz Adelbert.

Harry Olsen, assistant state's attorney of Illinois, who accompanied Stensland, stated that the prisoner made a confession to him while en route from Tangier.

Mr. Olsen says Stensland's confession had to do particularly with the forged notes. It was necessary, however, for him to have the notes in his possession during his conference with Stensland in order to complete the confession. In order to save time he hoped to receive these notes at Toledo or Cleveland, and so have the confession in full when he reached Chicago.

Mr. Olsen also stated that in Stensland's confession the latter implicated prominent men of Chicago not directly concerned or connected with the wrecked bank.

Theodore Stensland, the banker's son, issued a statement in which he said his father would plead guilty to indictments charging violation of the Illinois state banking laws after he examined the indictment, but would not plead guilty to forgery. He said he would reveal everything leading up to the wrecking of the Milwaukee Avenue bank, and in so doing would implicate other men prominent in the financial circles of Chicago. He added that if there was a shortage of more than $100,000 in the accounts of the bank his father would prove that Cashier Hering is responsible for everything above that amount.

Stensland was ill more or less during the voyage. He sometimes appeared on deck, but did not mingle with the passengers. He denied that he attempted suicide, but said he fell out of bed while at Tangier and this was exaggerated into a report of his attempting suicide.

Stensland will be taken to Chicago on the Twentieth Century limited over the New York Central railroad, leaving New York at 3:30 p. m.

BECOMING A MOTHER

Is an ordeal which all women approach with indescribable fear, for nothing compares with the pain and horror of child-birth. The thought of the suffering and danger in store for her, robs the expectant mother of all pleasant anticipations of the coming event, and casts over her a shadow of gloom which cannot be shaken off. Thousands of women have found that the use of Mother's Friend during pregnancy robs confinement of all pain and danger, and insures safety to life of mother and child. This scientific liniment is a god-send to all women at the time of their most critical trial. ASHBROOK AND BRYAN

Speaking of Government and State ownership of the railroads of the country, does Ashbrook favor that policy? If he be a true, salted or unsalted Democrat, he must edorse the affirmative views of his great party leader, William Jenings Bryan. It is possible that Ashbrook has imbibed his impressions and convictions on this question by a careful study of prevailing conditions in Russia. If so, would he substitute the American system for the Russian? Our flowers lean over the garden wall. Please answer or procure some of the telescoping transpositional Democratic editors of the district to define your position on this subject.

AND SAYS ASHBROOK "CUT IT OUT"

It was remarked to us the other day by a Smyser Democrat from Orrville, that it would require a surgical operation on Ashbrook to get an expression from him on local option.

A FAIR SAMPLE

Ashbrook claims to represent the rejuvanescene of the "era of good feeling" in the ranks of the Democracy. How about that little emute between Bryan and Sullivan of Ill. a member of the National Democratic Executive Committee, wherein the former denounces Sullivan as a corruptionist, grafter and traitor in the Democratic bungalow and the latter stigmatizes Bryan as a dazzling, flam buyant liar, and a lawyer who had aborted in practice—"or words to that effect."

A DEMOCRATIC ROW—A FIGHT ON HAND IN OHIO.

Ohio Democrats endorsed Bryan for president in 1908; that was before his famous Madison Square speech, however and before it was known what particular fanciful notions he would advocate. In that speech he pronounced himself in favor of Federal and State ownership of railroads.

Of course that doctrine has aroused a hornet's nest. Leading Democrats wont stand for it; Senator Daniels of Virginia, repudiates it; Senator Baily of Texas wont hear to it; Senator Bacon of Georgia, Henry Watterson of Kentucky, Hon. John S. Williams of Mississippi, Governor Folk of Missouri and many others openly say that cannot be Democratic policy.

When the Republican state convention was in session, supposing, of course, all the newspaper men would be at Dayton, Chairman Garber called the Democratic candidates to Columbus for a conference as to the advisability of bringing Mr. Bryan into Ohio this fall. They all kicked. It would not do. His doctrine would not go with the Democrats of Ohio. Chairman Garber and Secretary Finley were appointed to go to Cincinnati where Mr. Bryan was to speak, and break the news to him, that he was not wanted here.

Some how the story leaked out.

Is not this a good time to ask Mr. Ashbrook a few question?

Did you attend the Columbus meeting?

Were you opposed to Mr. Bryan coming into your district?

If so, why?

If you favor his coming here do you also favor his views as to the ownership of railroads?

This is a live question advocated by the candidate your convention endorsed for president. The voters have a right to know where you stand

A FLORODORA GIRL WHO BECAME A BRITISH PEERESS.

Frances Belmont, whose marriage in Paris to Lord Ashburton set her among the beauties of the British peerage, was one of the original Florodora sextet. When Lord Ashburton first met her she was one of the "scrub ladies'" chorus in "Mlladi." After she became engaged to Lord Ashburton he placed her in a convent in France, where she was educated for the part she is to play as the mistress of an estate of 60,000 British acres and a leader of London fashion.

COL. IKE HILL IS NEAR DEATH

Well Known Figure In Seventeenth District Politics.

Washington, Sept. 25 — Colonel Isaac R. Hill, better known as "Ike Hill, of Ohio," who has been an employe of the House of Representatives continuously since the '70s, is dying here.

His quaint sayings have been repeated and published throughout the country.

Colonel Hill is a Democrat an journeyed back to his home (Newark, O.) every time there was a Democratic convention there to participtae init

He was a figure in every Ohio Democratic State Convention, and served one term as State Chairman.

One of the best stories about him concerned his mission to OOhio under the Cleveland administration to commit the Democracy to free silver.

Before going he was optimistic.

When Calvin S. Brice finally completed his work the convention declaration showed very few silver threads among the gold.

On his return Colonel Ike was besieged on every hand for an explanation as to how it happened.

"It was this way," said Ike. "We had 'em, but it happened just like it always does; them fellers bought us fellers up."

Hill served under every speaker of the House since and including Mr. Blaine.

Take a Hyomei Treatment Four Times a Day and be Cured.

Hyomei has performed almost miraculous cures and is today recognized by leading members of the medical profession as the only advertised remedy for this disease that can be depended upon to do not what it claims.

Until recently your physician would have said the only way to cure catarrh would be to have a change of climate, but now with Hyomei you can carry a healthgiving climate in your vest pocket and by breathing it a few minutes four times a day, cure yourself.

The Hyomei treatment is simple and easy to use. It destroys all catarrh germs in the air passages and enriches and purifies the blood with ozone. When using Hyomei the air you breathe will come like that on the mountains, high above the sea level.

A complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00 extra bottles, 50c. If it does not give satisfaction, C. E. Anderson will refund your money. You run no risk when in taking this reliable treatment

EXCITING CLIMAX COMES IN THE REFUGEES

"We were much frightened for you, Ephraim," said Amos Green. "I had a heavy heart this night when I thought that I should never see you more."

"Tut, Amos; you should have known me better."

"But how came you here, captain?" asked Tomlinson. "I thought that maybe you had been taken down by the suck of the ship."

"And so I was. It is the third ship in which I have gone down, but they have never kept me down yet. I went

Seated upon an ice boulder and placidly smoking a long corncob pipe deeper tonight than when the Speedwell sank, but not so deep as in the Governor Winthrop. When I came up I swam to the berg, found this nook and crawled in. Glad I was to see you, for I feared that you had foundered."

"We put back to pick you up, and we passed you in the darkness. And what should we do now?"

"Rig up that boat sail and make quarters for the gal, then get our supper and such rest as we can, for there is nothing to be done tonight."

In the morning Amos Green was aroused by a hand upon his shoulder and, springing to his feet, found De Catinat standing beside him. The latter's face was grave, and his friend read danger in his eyes.

"What is it, then?"

"The berg. It is coming to pieces. I have been watching it. You see that crack which extends backward from the end of our grotto? Two hours ago I could scarce put my hand into it. Now I can slip through it with ease."

Amos Green walked to the end of the funnel shaped recess and found, as his friend had said, that a green sinuous crack extended away backward into the iceberg, caused either by the tossing of the waves or by the terrific impact of their vessel. He roused Captain Ephraim and pointed out the danger to him.

"Well, if she springs a leak we are gone," said he. "She's been thawing pretty fast as it is."

They could see now that the whole huge mass was brittle and honeycombed and rotten.

"Hello!" cried Amos Green. "What's that? I could have sworn that I heard a voice."

"Impossible. We are all here."

"It must have been my fancy, then."

Captain Ephraim walked to the seaward face of the cave and swept the ocean with his eyes. "We should lie in the track of some ships," said he. "There's the codders and the herring busses. We're overfar south for them, I reckon. But we can't be more'n 200 mile from Port Royal, in Acadia, and we're in the line of the St. Lawrence trade. What is it, Amos?"

The young hunter was standing with his ear slanting, his head bent forward, and his eyes glancing sidewise, like a man who listens intently. He was about to answer when De Catinat gave a cry and pointed to the back of the cave.

"Look at the crack now!"

It had widened by a foot since they had noticed it last until it was now no longer a crack. It was a pass.

"Let us go through," said the captain.

He led the way, and the other two followed him. It was very dark as they advanced, with high dripping ice walls on either side and one little zigzagging slit of blue sky above their heads. Tripping and groping their way, they stumbled along until suddenly the passage grew wider and opened out into a large square of flat ice. The berg was level in the center and sloped upward from that point to the high cliffs which bounded it on each side. With one impulse they began all three to clamber up until, a minute later, they were standing not far from the edge of the summit, seventy feet above the sea.

Amos Green looked about him with startled eyes. "I cannot understand it," said he. "I could have sworn—by the eternal, listen to that!"

The clear call of a military bugle rang out in the morning air. With a cry of amazement they all three craned forward and peered over the edge.

A large ship was lying under the very shadow of the iceberg. They looked straight down upon her snow white decks fringed with shining brass cannon and dotted with seamen. A little clump of soldiers stood upon the poop, going through the manual exercise, and it was from them that the call had come which had sounded so unexpectedly in the ears of the castaways. Standing back from the edge, they had not only looked over the topmasts of this welcome neighbor, but they had themselves been invisible from her decks. Now the discovery was mutual, as was shown by a chorus of shouts and cries from beneath them.

But the three did not wait an instant. Sliding and scrambling down the slippery incline, they rushed, shouting, through the crack and into the cave, where their comrades had just been startled by the bugle call while in the middle of their cheerless breakfast. A few hurried words and the leaky longboat had been launched, their few possessions had been bundled in and they were afloat once more. Pulling round a promontory of the berg, they found themselves under the stern of a fine corvet, the sides of which were lined with friendly faces, while from the peak there drooped a huge white banner mottled over with the golden lilies of France. In a very few minutes their boat had been hauled up, and they found themselves on board of the St. Christophe, man-of-war, conveying Marquis de Denonville, the governor general of Canada, to take over his new duties.

CHAPTER XIX.

A SINGULAR colony it was of which the shipwrecked party found themselves now to be members. The St. Christophe had left Rochelle three weeks before with four small consorts conveying 500 soldiers to help the straggling colony on the St. Lawrence. The squadron had become separated, however, and the governor was pursuing his way alone in the hope of picking up the others in the river. Aboard he had a company of the regiment of Querey, the staff of his own household, St. Vallier, the new bishop of Canada, with several of his attendants; three Recollet friars, five Jesuits bound for the fatal Iroquois mission, half a dozen ladies on the way to join their husbands, two Ursuline nuns and ten or twelve gallants whom love of adventure and the hope of bettering their fortunes had drawn across the seas.

There was peace between England and France at present, though feeling ran high between Canada and New York, the French believing, and with some justice, that the English colonists were whooping on the demons who attacked them. Ephraim and his men were therefore received hospitably on board, though the ship was so crowded that they had to sleep wherever they could find cover and space for their bodies. The Catinats, too, had been treated in an even more kindly fashion, the weak old man and the beauty of his daughter arousing the interest of the governor himself. De Catinat had during the voyage exchanged his uniform for a plain somber suit, so that, except for his military bearing, there was nothing to show that he was a fugitive from the army. Old Catinat was now so weak that he was past the answering of questions, his daughter was forever at his side, and the soldier was diplomatist enough, after a training at Versailles, to say much without saying anything, and so their secret was still preserved.

On the day after the rescue they sighted Cape Breton in the south, and soon, running swiftly before an easterly wind, saw the loom of the east end of Anticosti. Then they sailed up the mighty river, though from midchannel the banks on either side were hardly to be seen. As the shores narrowed in they saw the wild gorge of the Saguenay river upon the right, with the smoke from the little fishing and trading station of Tadousac streaming up above the pine trees. Thence the ship tacked on up the river past Mal Baie, Amos Green, leaning on the bulwarks, stared with longing eyes at the vast expanses of virgin woodland, hardly traversed save by an occasional wandering savage or hardy coureur de bois. Then the bold outline of Cape Tourmente loomed up in front of them, they passed the rich, placid meadows of Laval's siegneury of Beaupre, and, skirting the settlements of the island of Orleans, they saw the broad pool stretched out in front of them—the falls of Montmorenci, the high palisades of Point Levi, the cluster of vessels, and upon the right that wonderful rock, with its diadem of towers, and its township huddled round its base, the center and stronghold of French power in America.

The old merchant had pined away since he had left French soil, like a plant which has been plucked from its roots. The shock of the shipwreck and the night spent in their bleak refuge upon the iceberg had been too much for his years and strength.

Gotham Fashions

The best authorities agree in offering suits with coats of a length extending little below the waist line, rather than the half length that was prophesied for this season. These come in a great variety of rather freaky but decidedly smart styles. The French jacket with plaited lower part is very much in evidecce. Sleeves are full length in the more severe tailored styles but one sees any number of cape effects and three-quarter sleeves among the new models. Buttons, both of the suit material and of metal, bone, ivory or leather are used to a great extent as a garniture and braids and gimps of all sorts are very largely worn.

Skirts for Dress and Utility.

While skirts of function gowns continue to be long all round on many of the smartest models, suits have practical flaring short skirts clearing the ground from two to four inches. These are most often cut after a semi-circular somewhat plaited model that gives the becoming flare of the circular skirt without its tendency to sag. The dressy effect of the best skirts deped rather on their general cut and designe rather than the use of apelied trimmings if we except buttons and occasional touches of braid.

The Rage for Plaids.

Plaids of many sorts promise to be the rage, if they are sufficiently endorsed by fashionable women, for all styles are more or less on trial at this season. Certainly these patterns are most attractively displayed at all the best shops, and in most varied and fascinating combination. The regular Tartans are for the most part confined to ribbons for hat trimmings and to waist materials for school girls and misses. The ombre or shaded plaids are better adapted to older wearers. Many of these styles in robes for suits have matching materials for waists in taffeta or other weaves

Varied Materials and Colors.

It would seem that browns and greens are to lead in favor for the street costumes this season, and there is a decided movemet in favor of using serges of the best quality. Cheviots especially in stripes and small overplaids are among the prettiest materials used for smart specimens of suits for utility purposes and are particularly well adapted for school girls and other young women. Touches of brilliant contrasting colors, in yellows that verge toward the orange tones andthe newest reds that run from terra cottas to mahoganys are especially good with the more sombre tints used for the whole costume Blues of a decided navy and contrasting Hyrangea fashionable serge suits.

Illustration.

Thanks are due the McCall Co. makers and designers of fashion for handsome illustration, accompanying this article.

Hats.

The question of hats still remains to be settled, some contending that the very small hat will lead, others that all styles will be worn, which seems the most probable conjecture. Felts are very prominent, not more so however, than plain velvet, and uncurled ostrich feathers either with long willow like plumes, or the shorter ones in bunches that suggest the domestic feather duster, and will soon be as ubiquitous as were peacock feathers in the spring, and probably go out of style as completely and in as short a time. All sorts of fancy buckles and ornaments are used with ribbon trimmings on the new hats, and dahlias especially in mahogany shades are the newest thing in flowers. Cherries and grapes combined with tulle are seen on some of the most chic headgear, and shapes are more decided in their outlines than has been the case for some time.

Basket Factory In New Home

The machinery for the new basket factory arrived in the city Monday and will be installed at once at the J. M. Walker saw-mill on West Gambier street. Mr. Almack of Coshocton the former owner of the plant, superintended the moving of the machinery to Mt. Vernon. Mr. Walker expects to have the plant in operation in a month or so. A number of Mt. Vernon men are interested with Mr. Walker in the new industry. The factory will employ a large number of men—Mt. Vernon Banner.

A Stove that Pays for Itself

That's what the New Method Gas Range does. How? By saving you 25 per cent. of your gas bill.

The New Method Gas Range

Is made of key steel instead of cast iron. This steel being highly polished does away with all friction on the passage of the air and gas through the burner allowing a larger quantity of air to be taken up and mixed properly with the gas than can be in the thick, rough cast iron burners. The more air burned the less gas. Accurate tests made by gas experts in different parts of the country have shown an average of 25 per cent. less consumption of gas from the New Method, than from any other burner.

The steel plates in New Method Ranges are coated on both sides with enamel baked on so hard that it is not effected by heat or will not rust. Steel coated in this way will outwear cast iron and then they're the easiest to clean.

New method ranges are guaranteed for five years. Sold by

Pattern For Lady's Four Gored Skirt Designed by Martha Dean—No. 6300

There is no skirt so well suited to home construction as the gored skirt, and this can be undertaken with entire ease, no matter how inexperienced the sewer. The newest skirts fit about the top, and with even more snugness than hitherto, and flare about the bottom with a generous ripple. This skirt is a new four gored model and one very much liked by the devotees of fashion. It answers all of the requirements of stylishness and is easily made. For a skirt to wear with odd waists this model is an excellent one and may be made of serge, broadcloth or mohair. The length is round but it may be made to escape by an inch or two if desired. In the medium size the skirt requires five and one-quarter yards of thirty-six inch material for its development. Six sizes, 20 to 30 inches waist.

"BRIDGE" BILLS STIR ZANESVILLE

Society Woman Sends Bill And Tongues Go Wagging.

Zanesville O., Sept. 25 (Special)—Commercialism has entered into bridge whist in Zanesville to an extent unrecorded in the chronicles of polite society in Chicago and New York.

In Zanesville if you play bridge and lose, the husband of your hostess sends you a bill for the amount you owe.

Bridge invaded Zanesville last winter. Vanished then were the glories of pedro, fan tan, pinocle, authors, tiddledewinks and holding hands. It was a bas for the drama and the church festival. Sleigh rides grew in disfavor until Dobbin and Rosinante became fat and sluggish in their stalls. The saloons alone flourished for no man could tell when he would find wife, sweetheart or drop in at home. Every woman in town who had the price was playing bridge.

Tagged By Mrs. Bope

The game was discovered somewhere in the outer civilization by Mrs Frank Bope. She tagged it and brought it home with her. Then the internal complicattions began.

Society took up bridge even to the exclusion of talking scandal—until recently. Then there was a reversion to first principles Of course the spread of the bridge epidemic to the suburbs caused it. Trust a suburb for anything that shouldn't happen.

Among the suburbs that cling to Zanesville are Terrace and Putnam. They got it bad. They played evenings of week days and all the time Sundays. Even when the suburbans went down the river to summer camps on vacations they took the bridge outfits along.

The Western axiom of "Chips for money and money for chips" failed to reach Zanesville before bridge did, hence these complications. The game was easy to play, and losing didn't seem hard to a young Putnam matron when she "dropped" $20 to a Terrace woman at a recent bridge function. She didn't have to put up the money. It wasn't table stakes, and she didn't even give a marker. Likewise did a Putnam player lose $7 at the same orgie.

The husbad didn't figure in the bridge game, but Mrs. Terrace told him about it. "We need the money," quoth he, and straightaway he sent a bill for $20 to the Putnam woman. Likewise he sent a bill for $7 to the Terrace woman.

Hostesses Get Revenge

Neither has remitted and Mrs. Terrace has been carefully ignored by several hostesses in sending out invitations to balls and receptions.

Those who have studied the anatomy, physiology and hygiene of poker say that the hostess was in the right. She made demand upon the losers at the conclusion of the game and they did not produce the equivalent of the stakes. The $7 loser said she didn't know the game was played for money.

The authorities on gambling say the husband made an unprofessional move when he sent the bill for the $20 loss. He included a charge of $2 for "entertainment." Now, anyone who has ever been in Columbus knows that the house provides the entertainment.

All concerned are wealthy and prominent in society. Mrs. Terrace won't be though, if the contemplated process of elimination is put into effect.

New Rules Favor Indians

Carlisle, Sept. 25—The Carlisle Indian school's football eleven for this year is likely more favored by the new ruls than any other team in the country. Owing to its peculiar make up, the Indians can be counted upon to do everything possible this year to eliminate brutality from the great college game.

Again, the Carlisle officials take up the idea of having their eleven coached by full-blooded Indians of intelligence. Major Mercer has secured as the head coach for the coming season Bemus Pierce, a Seneca Indian, from New York state, who is without doubt the best posted Indian on the subject of football.

Bemus Pierce, who has distinguished himself by many hard fought battles on the gridiron, has devoted himself for the last four years to training footballists, mostly in the western part of the country. This year he will be assisted by Frank Hudson, the famous drop kicker, who will teach the young Indian how to kick during his spare hours. Hudson is cashier at the bank maintained at the Carlisle school.

The Indians principal characteristic this year will be fleetness of foot and lack of avoirdupois. They will have either as ends or back field players probably four men who can run one hundred yards in ten seconds.

During the last spring season nearly all of the Indians who will play on this year's football eleven took up track and field work and progressed remarkably, as a general thing. No attempt will be made this year to fatten the Carlisle warriors to even meet in a measure the overwhelming weight of the teams which they will play. It is thought that the new rules will give the redskins a chance to show their fleetness of foot and remarkable agility.

Is Jeff's Title In Danger?

Big Bill Squires, Australian Heavyweight Ring Champion, May One Day Lead the World. To Fight "Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien.

Brawny Bill Squires, the Australian fighter, who aspires to the heavyweight championship crown relinquished by Jim Jeffries, is one of the most remarkable fighters the world has ever seen.

While not a giant in build, Squires has every natural advantage a boxer should have if in line for championship honors.

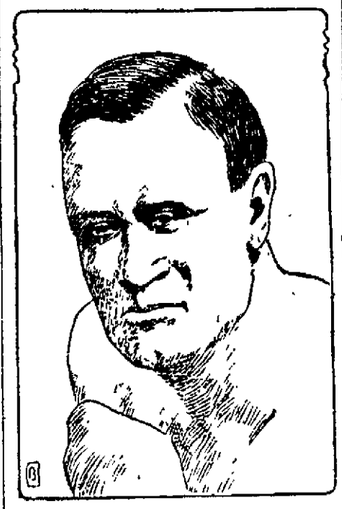

While one of the greatest fighters ever developed in Australia, Squires is an accident so far as pugilism goes. Formerly a miner and Sunday school teacher, his ability to fight was brought out unexpectedly, and from a novice he went to the front in jumps.

Squires expects to face "Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien in a battle for world's honors in November.

"Boshter" (Magnificent) Bill Squires is patriotically claimed by every Australian as the last word in modern pugilism. Old time followers of the game aver that Squires is a fighting phenomenon and would have "outed" Fitzsimmons, Jackson, Slavin and Goddard in short order had he flourished at that period when they were giants in the land.

As it is, Squires has "woodened" every heavyweight of note in the Australian commonwealth with as great ease as any well trained athlete would knock out a beer soddened wreck of seventy.

Squires is a natural fighter. Two years ago he was hewing coal in the pits of the Pelair main mine at Newcastle, Australia, ignorant of the fact that his hands were capable of aught but labor. His work was his pride. Today, when he stands champion of the continent of Australia, with not another man capable of standing three rounds before his mighty fist, Squires' pride remains in the work he did, stripped and begrimed, in the bowels of the earth.

Like most Australian workingmen, Bill is a socialist. A prominent member of the miners' union, he has for years been one of the foremost workers in the cause of the Labor party in Newcastle.

Though he never reached greatness in any other department of sport, Squires' great strength and activity made him a leading footballer in the state of New South Wales, and he was a swimmer of note in the land where everybody is a swimmer.

Squires is a compact mass of muscle so well marked and prominent that an athletic expert would pronounce him muscle bound. But his appearance belies him. He is as active as a featherweight. He uses both hands with lightning dexterity, is a marvel in foot work and possesses a perfect poise.

No matter what position he may assume, Squires' center of gravity is always under his feet.

His capacity for taking punishment is superb. He is as hard and invulnerable as the iron bark gum trees of his native land.

During his whole career only about twenty blows have reached him. Some of these were solid enough to knock out the average heavyweight, but Squires gave no indication of having felt them. He has been knocked down but once in the course of his twelve fights and finished the man who did it in half a round.

His record has been such that his admiring countrymen have given to his name the honored prefix of "Boshter," an Australian's superlative signifying magnificence. Such a title is harder to obtain in Australia than a seat in the British house of lords to an expatriated American millionaire.

Squires is twenty-seven years of age, five feet nine and a half inches tall and weighs 172 pounds in condition. He has a spread of six feet five inches between the hands, his chest measures forty inches in repose and his biceps fifteen inches. He neither drinks nor swears, and smokes rarely.

When asked to describe his methods of fighting, Bill stroked his chin and replied, "Oh, I just hit 'em!"

George Pinnick of the Adams Express Co. spent Sunday in Canton with Miss Gorrell and family.

Columbus Team Sends Challenge

Cliff Beach manager of the Coshocton football team last year, has received two letters from the manager of the Indianola football team, of Columbus, asking for dates. Manager Schlab will call a meeting of football enthusiastics in the near future, and it will probably be decided at the meeting whether to accept the dates or not.

A MOTOR RUN BY THE PACIFIC SURF.

An ingenious resident of San Diego has contrived an apparatus by means of which the waves that roll upon a sloping beach may be turned to practical account. Buckets on a belt catch the water, and the weight drags them down the platform. When they are inverted the water runs out. A cable conveys the motion of the chain to gearing on the shore.

COMPERS FINDS NO SYMPATHY

Mitchell Is Against Him Too--His Last Term.

Washington, Sept. 25.—President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor is much annoyed over the publication of reports that the recent meeting of the executive council was a Kilkenny cat affair. It developed at the sessions of the council that conservative leaders of the Federation are not in harmony with Gompers of his campaign methods, and the impression prevails here that he is serving his last term as president. It is known here that the council's sessions were the liveliest in the history of the body and they intensified the factional feeling that has existed for many months. John Mitchell not only disapproves Gompers's campaign but believes a mistake has been made in arraying the Federation against the Republican party, especially as that party made President Roosevelt the issue.

THE BREATH OF LIFE

It is a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. She writes: "Three boxes of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. O, it's grand for throat and lung troubles." Guaranteed by C. The Labor World

MORE WORK, SHORTER HOURS, HIGHER PAY

The latest report of the department of commerce and labor summarizes a very exhaustive statistical research covering a period of 15 years, on hours and wages and the purchasing power of the wages in food, says:

"The average wages per hour in 1905 were 18.9 per cent higher than the average for the ten-year period from 1890 to 1899, inclusive. The number of employes was 33.6 per cent. greater, and the average hours of labor per week in 1905 were 4.1 per cent. lower. The average earnings per week in 1905 were 14 per cent. higher than the average earnings per week during the ten years from 1890 to 1899. The aggregate weekly earnings of all employes, that tis, the total amount of the pay rolls, were 52.3 per cent. higher in 1905 than the average during the ten-year period named.

The retail price of the principal articles of food, weighted according to family consumption of the various articles, was 12.4 per cent. higher in 1905 than was the average price for the ten years from 1890 to 1899. Compared with the average for the same ten-year period, the purchasing power of an hour's wages in 1906 was 5.8 per cent. greater, and of week's wages, 1.4 per cent. greater, the increase in purchasing power of week's wages being less than the increase in purchasing power of hourly wages because of the reduction of the hours of labor during the period.

"The average wages per hour in 1905 were 21.5 per cent. higher than in 1891, the year of lowest wages during the period covered, and weekly earnings were 16.7 per cent higher. The purchasing power of an hour's wages was greater in 1905 than in any other year covered by this investigation, being 7.7 per cent. greater than in 1894, the year of lowest wages, and 1.3 per cent. greater than in 1896, the year of lowest retail prices. The purchasing power of a week's wages in 1905 was 3.5 per cent. greater than in 1894, but 2.7 per cent. less than in 1896."

The New Century Club.

Mrs. Carl Herbig was hostess at the fortnightly meeting of the New Century club which was held Monday evening. The current events which were given in response to roll call covered a wide range of happenings of the present day and the papers presented were of characteristic excellence. The first was written by Miss Louise Glover and in her absence, read by Miss Sadie Smith; the subject was "Babylonians and Assyrians" and the paper was an interesting resume of the history of those two nations the picture of the destruction of the former being particularly well done. Mrs. Merrell wrote on "Foods" the subject which the executive committee had originally assigned to Mrs. Edson Wilson; the subject was a vast one but was handled in a most interesting and comprehensive manner and treated not only of the original sources of food supply but also of the development of the art of cooking. Two comparative ideas of economy of different nations was discussed and the statement made that what the American housewife throws into the garbage can would feed the French nation so trained is it in the art of utilizing every atom of matter. Mrs. M. A. McConnell gave an interesting reading (which was carried over from the previous meeting) on "The Gypsies" that picturesque tribe which "wandered from Indian over the threshold of history" but the program proper for the meeting ended with the excellent review of Elliott Flower's new book "The Spoilsman" given by Miss Rue. The story which treats of modern political life was briefly outlined, the various characters aptly sketched and an excellent criticism of both the strong and the weak points in the story given.

Following the program refreshments were served and the club adpourned to meet next with Miss May Hutchinson. Mrs. Lincoln C. Carson of Pittsburg, one of the associate members of the club was present at the meeting.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO

Their Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong And Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys every three minutes The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure mater daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

W. O. Wright, 118 North Fifth street Coshocton, Ohio, says:—"For two or three years I had more or less trouble with my back and kidney's secretions. I seemed to have always a dull aching pain in my back which if I did any hard work was greatly aggravated. At times these pains were very severe and I could not stoop or bend at my work. The kidney secretions were quite active and I frequently had to get up at night three or four times. This caused me to lose much needed rest and in the morning I felt as tired as when I went to bed. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised in the papers, I procured a box at Siegrist & William's drug store and was also momentarily relieved by it. I am now using the second box and am feeling better than I have for years.

What To Eat and When to Eat

Two Important Questions Answered Easily After Reading This.

Every nutritive elemeat of the best white wheat grown is found in Malta-Vita. This famous food is the whole of the wheat thoroughly steamed and cooked in absolute purity and mixed with the finest malt extract that was ever made. Thus it is the richest, strongest food in the world. You understand, of course, that the cooking and steaming of the wheat gelatinizes its starch, and then the malt extract, a powerful digestive agent, quickly converts this starch into maltose, or malt sugar. Maltose is great food, and the weakest stomach digests and assimilates it without effort.

We all know that for many years physicians of high standing in their profession have prescribed malt extracts, which contain a large percentage of maltose. Malta-Vita the crisp, delicious whole-wheat food, contains from eight to ten per cent of maltose.

When Malta-Vita comes from the ovens, it is the crispest, most delicious food in the world, containing only one per cent of moisture. The other 99 per cent is food—brain and bone and nerve and muscle food—and most easily digested.

Malta-Vita is always fresh and crisp, and ready to eat. Delicious, refreshing, invigorating. No other food like it. All grocers, now 10 cents.

AMUSEMENTS

The opening attraction of the Record Stock company at the Sixth Street theatre Monday evening was greeted by a crowded house. The play was "A Woman's Honor," and was rendered well. The specialties between each act were above the average.

The play tonight is "A Woman's Revenge."

Rajah's Casket The Whole Thing

The Rajah's Casket was the whole works in the electrical world, locally, Monday night. Three of the moving picture houses had the identical film and all did a slashing business with the pretty picture. It was an odd coincidence.

DR. M'CLAIN SAYS NO SECTIONAL STRIFE

Urges Honest Exchange Of Views And Then All Boost The Town.

Editor Age: I have neither time nor desire to go into any further controversy about the city hall project. The recent article which brought forth such calumny evidently was not interpreted in the same spirit in which it was given. For the benefit of those inquiring, I gave plain facts in a way that the cost of the contemplated change might be clear to any citizen and taxpayer. I am just as much interested in Coshocton and her welfare as any of the number who replied to my letter and I tried to show by just comparison that it meant no more expenditure of money than had been made in other parts of the city. I was not writing for argument or to agitate a sectional spirit. This question is merely a contest between two different opinions which can be honestly and openly expressed without any personal or unkind feelings. I have given my own impressions regarding the best welfare of our flourishing town, regardless of personal interests. The change does not necessarily mean the James property; there are other available and desirable locations. Other sites on this same square have been offered—the corner of Walnut and Sixth streets would be an admirable location. The main object is to have the lot on which our new fire station is built, large enough to eventually accommodate the city hall, even though it be years before it is built. There is convenience, as well as economy in having one alarm system for both police and fire department.

I want to say that I never have been, neither am I now hostile to any section of the city. On several occasions I have tried to interest citizens and officials to the importance of an overhead bridge across the railroad in the southern part of town, as well as other improvements beneficial to that section.

I still believe the people should be allowed an expression on this question by a popular vote; throttle this and you deny them one of the fundamental principles on which a republican form of government rests. If the people of Coshocton decide that the change is to be made, no one doubts the ability of our council to make a suitable selection. If the people want it to remain in its present location, we are just as well satisfied and will do all in our power to boost Coshocton and make her a city of 20,000 in the next few years

(Signed) Jesse McClain.

Clipping Expenses

THE National Cigar Stands have taken cigars out of the class of expensive luxuries. They save smokers nearly one-half their cigar money, and give them better-made, better-kept and better-quality cigars.

Tobacco itself is not immensely expensive The great cost of cigars has always been in the wasteful way in which they were sold. No other merchandise of such common use passed through so many hands and was loaded with so many profits between producer and consumer.

The National plan reduces cost, not by reducing quality, but by cutting off all the "lost motion" in handling and all unnecessary profits. National Cigar Stands' cigars come to you straight from the producer.

Just to see what this means in getting quality-for-price, try the

Council Takes Quick Action And Knocks Out City Hall

TABLES PETITION AND THE REMONSTRANCE FOR GOOD

"Standpatters" Were There in Strong Array And Applaud Decision---Short But Productive Session.

"I move that both motions be tabled indefinitely," said Councilman Temple.

"I second the motion" said Councilman Lawrence.

Everybody voted yes, and thus died the city hall agitation without a struggle.

The council chamber was crowded with taxpayers Tuesday night, aroused by the item in The Age that the city hall project would come up and be definitely settled...The crowd waited a full hour, for members of the council retire to an upper room for a star chamber session, and evidently threshed out all differences of opinion there, and so presented a united front when the question came to a public vote.

"I am really in favor of having the city hall and fire house, etc., grouped together, and more centrally located," said one councilman to an Age man after it was all over. "But the time is not yet ripe, and beside things were getting entirely too personal on both sides."

The city hall will remain where it is for some time to come.

It was just curfew time when the council finally filed in, keeping step to the taps of the bell. The council chamber was crowded when Clerk Karr called the roll. All were present except President Stacy, and Dr. St. Clair presided.

The City Hall.

The hall opened after Clerk Karr had read the minutes, when C. B. McCoy presented a "remonstrance against any action on moving the city hall or purchasing a site now," signed by 1314 citizens.

R. B. McDermott presented the original petition asking that there be left to a vote of the people, the proposition to move the city hall east of the railroad, by an additional 218 names, or a total of 1101 names.

He made a few remarks saying that the "total vote of Coshocton last election was 1070," and suggested some had signed both petitions. The statement was in error as the total vote was 1782.

Mr. McDermott declared it his belief that all signers on his side with an exception of one or two, are voters. He said there were more than one-half of the voting population on his side. He declared the other side could not say as much.

Councilman Temple, seconded by Mr. Lawrence, moved that both petitions be tabled indefinitely. All voted aye.

The crowd broke into loud applause, the "stand-patters" being jubilant.

It was all over.

Want Light.

A petition signed by Al Rinehart, Jerry Fowler and other citizens of South Ninth street was read. It asks that an arc light be placed at the corner of an alley on South Ninth, between Orange and Vine street.

It was tabled on motion of Mr. Robertson as there was no available appropriation. It will have to be brought up the first of the year.

Dr. Stacy suggested the matter be referred to a committee, that a transfer of funds might be made, but it found no favor.

Eleventh Street

The resolution declaring intention to appropriate property for the extension of Eleventh street came next. The new street will take an entire lot owned by the heirs of Henry Hay, 35 feet off the east side of a lot owned by Cora B. Kaser, 15 feet off the west side of the lot of Isaac M. Shannon and 20 feet off the east side of another lot owned by Shannon.

Mr. Fleming moved the adoption of the resolution. Mr. Robertson seconded, and all voted aye, but Mr. Pharion.

Defective Sidewalks.

A resolution to repair sidewalks on North Tenth, East Chestnut, North Fourth, Orchard and North Second streets was given three readings and adopted.

The resolution to construct sidewalks in various parts of the city was given third reading and adopted. If the property owners do not build these walks the city will now do it at their expense.

Pay for Dog Catcher.

Pay for the dog catcher became the paramount question as no provision had been made. The solicitor was instructed to draw the necessary ordinance instanter. The sum of $75 was set aside as a salary fund for the job.

The ordinance to establish a grade on a street near the fair grounds, between Seventh and Eighth streets was passed.

Caldwell "Dry."

Caldwell, O., Sept. 26—(Special)—The local option election here yesterday resulted in a victory for the "drys" by a majority of 99 votes. There were 389 votes cast the "drys" securing 244 of them and the "wets" 145. The town was voted "dry" two years ago and there was considerable doubt as to the outcome of the election, both sides claiming the victory up until the time the polls closed.

THREE NEW BRIDGES WILL BE BUILT

Big Island Bridge To Be Built For $15,000---The Others

Coshocton county is going to build three new iron bridges this fall. The bridge at Big Island fotd up the Walhonding, that was beldup at the last letting because it had too short a reach, is to be let at the session of Oct. 12. The bridge is to be placed at the wide point of the river first selected, and will cost about $15,000. The first estimate was $19,000 but the introduction of concrete into the bidding for abutments has made a big saving. Stone work was estimated at about $7 50 but at the last bidding concrete bids were as low as $1.62 per cubic yard. This bridge is to be 300 feet long.

Surveyor Bock will file plans with the auditor Thursday for the new iron bridge at James Hinds' place in Adams township over Evans creek, a span of 70 feet, and also one across Robinson's Run, in Franklin tp. on the T. Hunnickhouse place, a span of 50 feet.

Contracts for the three will be warded at the Oct. 12 meeting.

DISGUSTED AT PALMA BUT TRY FOR PEACE

Taft is Still Busy But Palma Still Pouting.

[By Telegraph to The Age]

Havana, Sept. 26—Secretary Taft and Mr. Bacon today are doing all they can to promote peace here without intervention. The situation is not encouraging and it is evident that President Palma has created disgust by his unpatriotic course.

Havana, Sept. 26.—Although intervention appears to be certain, both Secretaries Taft and Bacon declare that such a course will not be taken so long as a government remains with which they can treat, but in face of the personal communication from President Palma that he is about to throw over the whole matter. Secretary Taft has no great expectation that the present government will endure long.

Secretary Taft feels that President Palma's course is uncalled for, as the letter setting forth the terms of peace invited the government officials to suggest changes in conditions that were unsatisfactory and to offer any other plan which they believed would be acceptable to all concerned.

Secretary Taft feels keenly that President Palma has been insincere in the negotiations with the United States commissioners in that he entered on the negotiations with the voluntary promise to abide by the decision of the commissioners, then rejected the very first suggestion made, and also refused to offer any counter plans. This convinced Secretary Taft that President Palma intended to accept only in the event that the decision favored the existing government. When Palma sent word that he intended to resign Mr. Taft was convinced that the president of Cuba would wreck the government of the republic rather than make personal or party sacrifices.

The Moderate party, which six weeks ago was in absolute control of every office in the island, is determined to abdicate everything and compel the United States to intervene. In fact every government official from President Palma down is sincerely anxious to force such intervention rather than yield to any one of the terms offered by the Liberal party and those in arms against the government. The Liberal leaders characterize the conduct of the government as treason to the country.

It is declared on very high authority that intervention in Cuba by the United States is certain. Furthermore, it is expected that the proclamation of intervention will be issued from Oyster Bay.

The letter sent by Taft and Bacon to President Palma and members of the cabinet was sent by and carefully worded with the intention of arousing the Cuban president's co-operation in a settlement on the terms suggested through appeals to his patriotism. Besides setting forth the terms of the proposed settlement the commissioners express their highest appreciation of President Palma's well-known life ambition to see Cuba continue an independent republic and appealed to him to do all possible to aid the peace commissioners in carrying out the task set them by President Roosevelt.

President Roosevelt cabled President Palma appealing to the latter's patriotism to accept the terms suggested by Taft and Bacon as being the only conditions under which calm political conditions could be restored.

Secretary Taft sent the peace conditions to Senor Mendez Capote, as president of the Moderate party, for

DAM CONTRACT IS TO BE LET OCTOBER 8

Engineers To Meet Thursday--Kissner's Big Dredge.

At a conference of engineers in Columbus Thursday night, including Engineer John Hanlon, of this city, definite plans for the big dam up the Walhonding will be adopted. It is to be an "eclectic" dam, the good features of all former propositions to be embodied in it. The construction is to be of concrete, steel and timber.

W. A. Himebaugh returned from Columbus last night and says matters are moving on nicely for the new construction work. The board of public works at their meeting of October 8 will let the contract for the dam construction and the contractors will begin work at once. They say they will

by the first of December. In fact experts declare that October and November will be the best months for such work. Contractor John Kissner is having a big modern dredge built at the Marion works at a cost of $5,600, and when it comes the first part of November, he will begin work and keep it up all winter. His work will be completed April 1.

The plans for the big turbine plant Mr. Himebaugh is to erect will be ready in October and work of construction will be begun early next spring.

HUGHES IS NAMED BY REPUBLICANS

By Acclamation New York Honors Fearless Leader.

[By Telegraph to The Age]

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 26—Chas. E. Hughes was nominated for governor by acclamation today.

Lieut. Governor Linn Bruce was renominated.

Saratoga, Sept. 26.—The lists were still open for entries in the gubernatorial sweepstakes when the Republican convention was called to order today for its second session.

The first session of the convention was harmonious and comparatively uneventful. Two episodes, however, occasioned some comment and amusement. One was a brief passage between State Chairman Odell, presiding, and Representative Herbert Parsons, heading the New York county delegation; the other was the interruption of Temporary Chairman Driscoll's attack on William R. Hearst by a young man standing before the front row of delegates, who exclaimed that Mr. Hearst had "sacrificed all." This was hardly noticed, but he repeated in a loud voice that Mr. Hearst had "sacrificed $15,000,000." The delegates were indignant and the man was ejected.

Still another incident out of the ordinary was the adoption of a resolution deploring race hatred and mob law at home or abroad. The resolution attracted attention because it was presented by a colored delegate, Charles W. Anderson, deputy collector of revenue at New York, an "additional member" of the state committee. Anderson asked unanimous consent to offer the resolution. By this time the delegates had come to realize that the resolution applied not only to lynching and mob violence affecting the negro race, represented by Anderson, but also to anti-Jewish rioting in Russia, and there was a clamor for its reception. Chairman Odell put the question and the resolution was adopted amid cheers.

After Governor Higgins announced his withdrawal as a candidate for renomination a boom was started for former Governor Frank S. Black. Timothy L. Woodruff, who was lieutenant governor with Black, and others, backed the boom. Odell declared for Black as a compromise candidate, but Black positively declined to take it. It is known that President Roosevelt favored Hughes.

A large proportion of the delegates favored Lieutenant Governor Bruce, and Herbert Parsons was almost alone in his advocacy of Hughes.

Neither of the two United States senators, Platt and Depew, who have attended every Republican state convention for years are present.

HEARST TO BE LEADER OF DEMOCRACY

Yellow Journalist in Lead For New York Governorship.

[By Telegraph to The Age]

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 26.—Owing to protracted work of the committees there was considerable delay in calling the Democratic convention to order today to receive reports and nominate a ticket.

Before the convention reassembled it was the concensus of opinion that William R. Hearst, nominee of the Independence league, would be nominated for governor on the first ballot.

Hearst gained control of the three important committees appointed at the first session of the convention, the committee on contested seats in 20 districts, involving 60 votes; the committee on platform and resolutions and the committee on permanent organization.

Senator P. H. McCarren of Brooklyn, who brought to Buffalo an enthusiastic delegation of supporters for Justice William Gaynor of Brooklyn, was unable to convince Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, and others that Gaynor would accept the Democratic nomination and remain in the field against the Republican nominee and against Hearst as the nominee of the Independence league.

After W. T. Jerome retired from the race at the conference of anti-Hearst men, an attempt was made to consolidate the opposition to Hearst in the final effort to defeat Hearst.

In announcing their decision to support Hearst a number of Democrats stated that they reached this decision not because of any conversion to all the ideas Hearst represents, but because they feel that under the existing circumstances he was the strongest candidate before the convention. Men who bitterly fought Hearst in years gone by announced their intention to vote for him, though they declared they would not retract any statements made in the past.

The second day's session does not go through with all the smoothness that characterized the brief session Tuesday, when in less than half an hour all the preliminaries of temporary organization were disposed of. Lewis Nixon of New York, the temporary chairman, made an appeal for harmony, which was applauded.

Wife Says Husband Threatened With Pistol

Sensational Divorce Suit Filed Against H. O. Nelson.

Henry O. Nelson, until recently in the bicycle business in this city is the defendant in a rather sensational divorce petition, filed in probate court Wednesday morning by Atty. W. S. Merrell for Mary E. Nelson. The wife alleges gross neglect, extreme cruelty and adultery and drunkenness.

They were married in 1898 and have three small children. Things went well, she recites, for about three years and then the husband took to drink. Last August he assaulted her, she says, and threatened her with a revolver, abandoning her to earn her own livlihood. Parties to the suit are also made of S. F. Gibson of Columbus and Squire Wimmer, both of whom she says hold money belonging to her husband. An injunction was issued to prevent his securing the money, or disposing of personal property. She asks divorce, alimony and custody of the children.

SLANDER ON COSHOCTON IN A COLUMBUS NEWSPAPER

Local business men are considerably aroused over the sensational and false item published in the Columbus Dispatch Tuesday night from Coshocton. The local correspondent, not content with assailing individuals, has begun a campaign on the city itself.

In brief the story says that business is hurt in Coshocton by the "bitter" city hall agitation, and the outside world is given to believe that Coshocton is filled with a lot of factionalists trying to pull down the town—an unpleasant place for any one to dwell, so the world might think.

Here are the head lines, two columns wide, issued in the Columbus paper:

BUSINESS OF COSHOCTON AFFECTED BY DISCUSSION OVER SALE OF CITY HALL

Populace divides on the question and petitions are circulated for signatures—An election may be ordered to settle the controversy.

Then comes the item itself, the last few lines of which have stirred up local merchants:

Coshocton, Ohio, Sept. 25—Coshocton is agitated to an extent that has not been paralleled for a quarter of a century over the proposal to sell the present city hall building, constructed 25 years ago, in what was then the center of the city. The town is divided into two sections, and petitions demanding and opposing the calling of a special election to vote upon the removal proposition have been so thoroughly circulated that every man in town has either recorded himself one way or the other.

The council this week will determine whether the election will be called. The bitterness engendered by the fight is affecting business.

The item is untrue, "Bitterness engendered" has not "affected business." If Coshocton cannot honestly discuss a public question without being written up by a penny-a-liner in the outside press and paraded in a false light, it is time that truth was brought to prevail.

BAILEY STANDS ON HIS RECORD

No Apology to Offer For Acting as Counsel For Corporations.

HIS RIGHT TO PRACTICE LAW

Spirited Reply to Political Enemies Made by the Texas Senator, Who Declares That the Present Furore Is an Echo of His Campaign Six Years Ago.

[By Telegraph to The Age]

Dallas, Tex., Sept. 26.—A spirited reply to his critics was issued here by Senator Joeph W. Bailey. It is a long statement, from which the following excerpts are taken:

"The Democrats of Texas have not forgotten," says Mr. Bailey, "that this same kind of a fight was made on me when I was first elected to the senate six years ago. After I had won the senatorship in a fair contest before the people, a coterie of dissatisfied politicians made a desperate attempt to defeat my election by the legislature. The present agitation was largely inaugurated by the same men, with some outside assistance, and is predicated on exactly the same transactions.

"The first step in this campaign of malevolence and detraction was to have a purported interview with Roger Sullivan of Illinois assailing me sent broadcast over the country. Mr. Sullivan promptly denounced that interview as a falsehood.

"The next step was to circulate the falsehood that the Tennessee railroad properties, for which I am attorney, belong to the Standard Oil company. Some of the men who are circulating that story know, and all of them could have learned with very little inquiry, that the Standard Oil company had no interest in or connection with these properties, and that they were owned by H. C. Pierce, J. C. Van Blarcom, W. H. Thompson and many other leading business men of St. Louis. The municipality of Nashville itself, in order to provide her people additional and competing railroad facilities, subscribed for $1,000,000 of the stock of the railroad. The railroad had passed through one receivership and was on the verge of another when I was called into the case. I accepted the employment and performed exactly the same kind of service that would have been expected of any other reputable lawyer. The statement so industriously circulated by some that I 'put $13,000,000 worth of securities in my pocket to do with them as I pleased' is little less than ridiculous. I did not have $13 worth of securities in my pockets. Every dollar's worth of bonds of that railroad company were pledged for its indebtedness and it was my task to prevent those who held them from enforcing their liens and sacrificing the securities at a forced sale. That I succeeded in doing this is a matter of great satisfaction to me, as it was to my clients.

"The third step in the process was to pretend that the testimony given by Mr. Pierce disclosed a secret employment of me in connection with those properties. The employment was perfectly proper, and such as any reputable lawyer would have accepted without the slightest hesitation. Not only that, but the newspapers of this state, together with those of St. Louis and Nashville, contained repeated references to those properties and my connection with them. There was never the least attempt to conceal my attorneyship for those properties, nor was there the least reason why it should be concealed. The objection to my employment as the attorney of those properties must proceed upon the theory that a man in public life has no right to pursue any private business, and such a doctrine, if applied to me and to all offices, would reduce the life of this country to a point where only rich men or rascals could afford to accept an office.

"The Congressional Record will show that during my 15 years—first in the house and then in the senate—I have spoken and voted on every important question, and my most malignant enemy can not point to a single speech or vote in the interest of my clients and against the interest of my constituents."

President Palma declined to be interviewed. It is known, however, that he contemplates a special session of congress to which he will send the resignations of himself and Mendez Capote.

Senator Dolz said the government might have agreed to a new election had there been no war, but to submit to the elections now would be ridiculous. The senator added: "We want peace, and preferably to civil war is intervention. We think the demands of the Liberals unjust and that the United States commissioners are showing partiality in executing them."

Manuel Ponce [illegible], the [illegible] of [illegible], said: "The Liberals [illegible]. The only way is to fight it out. The government with 10,000 disciplined troops surely will be victorious." Senor Desvernine also complained of alleged partiality of the United States commissioners for the Liberals, which view is generally held by the Moderates and government officials.

Senator Zayas, the Liberal leader, said there were nine points of difference between the Liberals and the United States commissioners, but he regarded these as being easily adjusted. Mr. Taft revised the terms in order to meet the desires of the insurgents and Senor Zayas took a copy of them to the presidio to be considered by the whole committee. There remained two points on which the Liberals insist, one of them being a practical form for the dissolution of armed forces, and the other being general amnesty for all insurgents.

BOLIVAR MAKERS

Released as They Were Not Violating United States Coinage Laws.

New York, Sept. 25.—Captain Joe E Boynton of South America and Lewis M. Thompson, a lawyer of this city, were discharged from custody by a United States commissioner before whom they were arraigned on charge of having in their possession hubs and dies for the reproduction of the "Bolivar" silver dollar of Venezuela. Counsel for the defendants contended that the federal statutes made a distinction between the possession of dies to counterfeit United States coins and the money of another country, arguing that proof must be established that it was intended to engage in the counterfeiting within the jurisdiction of the United States. The prisoners showed that they planned to make their coins in the delta of the Orinoco in South America.

Cures Woman's Weaknesses.

We refer to that boon to weak, nervous, suffering women known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. John Fyfe one of the Editorial Staff of THE ECLECTIC MEDICAL REVIEW says of Unicorn root (Helonias Dioica) which is one of the chief ingredients of the "Favorite Prescription":

"A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine invigorator * * * makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system." He continues "in Helonias we have a medicament which more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted. In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication for this remedial agent." Dr Fyfe further says: "The following are among the leading indications for Helonias (Unicorn root). Pain or aching in the back, with leucorrhea; atonic (weak) conditions of the reproductive organs of women, mental depression and irritability, associated with chronic diseases of the reproductive organs of women; constant sensation of heat in the region of the kidneys; menorrhagia (flooding), due to a weakened condition of the reproductive system; amenorrhœa (suppressed or absent monthly periods), arising from or accompanying an abnormal condition of the digestive organs and anæmic (thin blood) habit; dragging sensations in the extreme lower part of the abdomen."

If more or less of the above symptoms are present, no invalid woman can do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, one of the leading ingredients of which is Unicorn root, or Helonias, and the medical properties of which it most faithfully represents.

Of Golden Seal root, another prominent ingredient of "Favorite Prescription," Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says:

"It is an important remedy in disorders of the womb. In all catarrhal conditions * * and general enfeeblement, it is useful."

Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, says of Golden Seal root:

"In relation to its general effects on the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated states."

Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, says of Golden Seal:

"Valuable in uterine hemorrhage, menorrhagia (flooding) and congestive dysmenorrhea (painful menstruation)."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription faithfully represents all the above named ingredients and cures the diseases for which they are recommended.

"In my full term as judge," remarked he, "I have had but three or four cases, so it really makes but little difference to this office."

RHEUMATISM

TROUBLESOME PAINS AND ACHES

While Rheumatism is usually worse in Winter because of the cold and dampness of a changing atmosphere, it is by no means a Winter disease entirely. Persons in whose blood the uric acid, which produces the disease, has collected, feel its troublesome pains and aches all the year round. The cause of Rheumatism is a sour, acid condition of the blood, brought about by the accumulation in the system of refuse matter, which the natural avenues of bodily waste have failed to carry off. This refuse matter coming in contact with the different acids of the body, forms uric acid which is absorbed by the blood and distributed to all parts of the body, and Rheumatism gets possession of the system. Rheumatic persons are almost constant sufferers; the nagging pains in joints and muscles, are ever present under the most favorable climatic conditions, while exposure to dampness or an attack of indigestion will often bring on the severer symptoms even in warm, pleasant weather. Liniments, plasters, lotions, etc., relieve the pain and give the sufferer temporary comfort, but are in no sense curative; because Rheumatism is not a disease that can be rubbed away or drawn out with a plaster. S. S. S. is the best treatment for Rheumatism; it goes down into the blood and attacks the disease at its head, and by neutralizing the acid and driving it out, and building up the thin, sour blood, cures Rheumatism permanently. Being made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, S. S. S. will not injure the system in the least. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice without charge.
